Showing Gratitude for the Generosity and Commitment of Our Sponsors

Our Region would not be entering it's 66th year if not for the generosity and support of local businesses and Porsche enthusiasts throughout the decades.

Each month of the ORPCA year brings opportunities for adventure, camaraderie, and chances to celebrate the cars we love, November was no different, but also automatically slips many of us into gratitude mode. The overlap – celebrating the cars and people we love with what we are grateful for seem obvious. Much of what our Region accomplishes is due to the generosity and commitment of our sponsors. Many of our sponsors and advertisers have supported the Club for years, many years. This year we have been fortunate to have picked up a couple of new advertisers. These newcomers found us either due to our enhanced social media presence (huge shout out to the fabulous Jeannine Downey for her work on our behalf!) or from members who own businesses and view supporting the Club as an opportunity to both support something they enjoy while also reaching a great audience for their products or services.

Advertising and sponsorships allow us to host a wide array of events but also bring unique perks for our members throughout the year. The perks include discounts and private tours of garages and tech sessions to personalized knowledge from leaders in their field. Unsurprisingly, our sponsors fall mainly into some sort of automotive category; like mechanics and maintenance or enhancement of cars, while others fall into bigger life categories such as finance and healthcare. All are important and valued and I want to thank them all. Our Region would not be entering it's 66th year if not for the generosity and support of local businesses and Porsche enthusiasts throughout the decades.

Please take a look at our sponsors here in the Anzeiger, check out their websites, see what they have to offer and consider supporting them when you find yourself in the market for any of their services. The Region is a community and that community includes those who support our passions. It's the giving time of year, so let's all give a big thank you to our sponsors, advertisers and trusted resources that are part of ORPCA.
