Winter is the Season of Tech, Garage and Learning Events

Keep your eyes tuned to your weekly email blast and website for upcoming weekend adventures to the coast and northward.

The warm winter of 2026 definitely feels more like spring than our typical wet and grey season. Thanks to the mild and sunnier days of late, our drives have been filling to maximum capacity. While the drive season is starting off nicely here at ORPCA, winter is typically the season of tech, garage and learning events. This year is no different.

We kicked off the tech season with Ladies Lunch and Learn. The crew at Matrix patiently explained the importance of regular maintenance, what to watch for, and how to hear what your car is communicating. The next tech and learning session will be an EV Curious event at the end of March, open for registration now. Spring Clean is back on the books for mid-April and is another great opportunity for keeping your car in optimal driving condition.

While spring is not quite here, the organizing team and many committees are hard at work creating more events. Keep your eyes tuned to your weekly email blast and website for upcoming weekend adventures to the coast and northward.

When you attend events, please be sure to upload your best photos via the QR codes that now accompany the informational emails you get a day or so ahead of any event. The QR code takes you to a secure Dropbox for uploading photos. Rick Pittman, Club Photographer, then moves photos to the club's SmugMug archive that lives on our website. Thank you, Rick, for maintaining our photo album!
